A SCORE OF PEOPLE DEAD!

Terrible Accident on Pan Handle Railroad Monday.

MANY NAPTHA CARS EXPLODE

In Switching the Train the Rear Car Telescoped the One Which Was Ahead of It.

FLUID RAN INTO COOK'S RUN

PITTSBURG, May 13.—The Sheraden yards of the Pan Handle railroad was the scene Monday evening of one of the most disastrous explosions and fire known in this section for many years. A score of lives were lost and about 200 persons were so badly burned that, according to the judgment of physicians in attendance, 75 per cent of them will die from the effects of their injuries.

The cause of the catastrophe was the explosion of a train of naptha cars which were being switched at the yard and in the switching the rear car telescoped a car forward. The leaking naptha reached a switch light, causing an explosion which threw the flames fifty feet high. Much of escaping naptha ran through Cork's run to Esplen borough, a distance of one and one-half miles, and caused another explosion, blowing to atoms the Seymour hotel and the Collins house, and badly wrecking a frame building nearby, in which were congregated 200 or more sports from Pittsburg and vicinity, betting on the races, base ball, etc. Few of the occupants of this building escaped injury, many being badly hurt. Mrs. Seymour and her daughter, of the Sheraden hotel, were seriously, and it is feared, fatally injured.

The first car of naptha exploded about 4:40 o'clock and the spectacle soon attracted a large crowd on the streets lining the hills on both sides of and parallel to the railroad. The second car exploded about 5 o'clock. But it was 6:15 o'clock, when three more cars of the deadly stuff went up with a roar that could be heard for miles, that the work of destruction really began.

A torrent of flame burst forth on each side of the track, sweeping back the terrified spectators like a charge of artillery, and sending a shower of flame over their heads, resembling Mont Pelee on a small scale.

The scene that followed beggars description. The successive explosions had heated the air to such an extent that before the third explosion, many were rendered unconscious by the extreme heat and the gaseous fumes and were being carried away when the torrent of flame swept over the excited crowd.

There was an awful hush for a moment then followed a scene of frenzy. Men and women, their clothing ablaze, their faces scorched and blistered and their hair burned from their, head ran wildly shrieking, hither and thither, only intent on escape from that awful furnace of fire. Some gave vent to frenzied appeals to kill them and put them out of their misery, and little children, with their curly locks and light summer clothing small pillars of fire, cried piteously as they were swept along by the tide of burning humanity.

The townspeople did all in their power for the stricken victims, and all the Pittsburg ambulances were immediately despatched to the scene, with a corps of physicians. Many of those not seriously burned were removed to their homes in Sheridan, while others were sent to the various Pittsburg hospitals, and the dead removed to undertaking establishments in Sheridan and vicinity and to the Pittsburg morgue.

The Pan Handle Railroad company has thirty-six tracks through Sheridan and has succeeded in keeping communication open. The property loss will amount to at least $600,000.

—Says the Johnstown Tribune of Saturday last: On Sunday one Ralph Kerfoot a coal miner of Barnesboro, went to the poorhouse and told those in charge that he was looking for a wife. The marriageable women in the institution were notified and Kerfoot introduced to them. The one who seemed nearest to filling the bill was Mrs. Adda Corr, who had been an inmate of the home for five years, and whose husband died there a little over a year ago. Kerfoot promptly fell in love with the widow, proposed on the spot, was accepted with the same alacrity, and on Monday they got their license and were wedded, the ceremony being performed by Poor Director Miller, who is also a justice of the peace. The bride is the widow of J. G. Corr, who formerly conducted a tailor shop at Spangler. She is about thirty years of age and her husband about thirty-five.

Aged Citizen of Clearfield County Dead.

The Philipsburg Journal of Monday gives the following particulars of the death of Ellis Irwin, an aged citizen of Clearfield county:

Ellis Irwin, died on Saturday afternoon at his home in Lick Run Mills, Clearfield county. He had not been specially ill, and his death was due more particularly to the infirmities of age.

The deceased was born in Bald Eagle valley, this county, not far from Bellefonte on the 17th of June, 1805, and was consequently just rounding out his 97th year He was educated at Bellefonte Academy, and spent much of his time in his youth working upon his father's farm, and in a shoe factory also carried on by his father, John Irwin, Jr., who came from Chester county. For four years he carried the United States mail through the mountains on horseback. On January 10, 1827, he married Hannah Iddings, a lady of marked intelligence and worth, and as a result of this union eight children were born, viz: Lewis, who died in 1882; John F., of Clearfield; Mary and Henrietta, at home; William E., of Philipsburg; Joseph who died about one year ago in Curwensville; Mallissa who died Dec. 11, 1862, and James, who died January 3, 1853. His wife, after a wedded life of more than fifty years, died in Feb. 1881.

Soon after his marriage he began farming on his own account, and in 1829 moved to Clearfield county, buying a farm at or near Gramplan, and four years later engaged in the hotel business at Curwensville, remaining three years. In 1835 he was appointed to the office of prothonotary, register, recorder, and clerk of the courts in Clearfield, to fill a vacancy, and at the end of the term was elected for a full term of three years. In 1838 he engaged in mercantile business in Clearfield. In 1840 he was appointed postmaster there, in 1843 he was elected Sheriff for a term of three years, and in these as in other positions of public trust he served with ability and faithfulness. In 1850 he purchased a large tract of land in Goshen township, Clearfield county, which he improved and develope, and mainly through his efforts the postoffice at Lick Run Mills was established, of which he has been postmaster since 1872

Found Diamonds in a Shoe.

ATLANTIC CITY, N. J., May 23.—Three thousand dollars worth of diamonds hid den in a servant's shoe were recovered by the local police Sunday night for Mrs. Dr. J. Keys, of Brooklyn, N. Y., a guest at a beach front hotel. Henry Brookins, a colored waiter, was taken into custody and bound over for a hearing. Dr. and Mrs. Keys, after dinner Saturday evening left the dining room for their apartments, Mrs. Keys forgetting her cabs containing the jewels and money in the dining room. She had taken them there with her for safety. Fifteen minutes elapsed before she thought of her precious stones. She then hurried to her table but the diamonds were gone. The police arrested the man who waited upon them, searched the room and found the jewels hidden in his shoe.

Two Fires at Beech Creek.

John Peters' dwelling, on the outskirts of Beech Creek, was totally consumed by fire Friday night. All the furniture was also burned. The loss is covered by a small insurance.

A defective flue started a fire Saturday afternoon in the house occupied by D. M. Burlew, at Beech Creek. Some of the furniture was saved.

The house was totally destroyed.

Another Bucktail Gone.

A special from Kingston, N. Y., says that Colonel John G. Jewett, of Saugerties, committed suicide Wednesday night by shooting. During the civil war he was lieutenant colonel of the Pennsylvanin "Bucktails," the famous sharp-shooter regiment. Business troubles are assigned as the cause of suicide.

—The streets, of Tyrone, are torn up from a to izzard, with the laying of the street car tracks. Bellefonte would no doubt be glad to be in the same condition with such a purpose in view.

—The Jersey Shore Herald, for years edited and published by the Seely's, father and son, has passed into the hands of the Herald Publishing company and the new management promises a daily Herald in the near future.

—The fourth annual reunion of the 127th Pennsylvania Regiment association will be held in Brua chapel at Gettysburg on Tuesday afternoon, June 3 next at 2 o'clock in the afternoon. Governor William A. Stone, General Joshua L. Chamberlin, Col. John E. Irrons, Lieut. Colonel Joseph E. Ege, Major George W. Merrick, Capt. George G. ## THOUSANDS ARE DEAD.

Further Particulars of the Disaster that Befell Martinique.

BODIES ARE DECOMPOSING

The City of St. Pierre is an Absolute Smoking Waste, Concealing at Least 30,000 Bodies.

PREPARATIONS FOR GIVING AID

FORT DE FRANCE, Island of Martinique, 12.—Advices received here yesterday from the vicinity of St. Pierre (ten miles from here), contain further detail, of the terrible volcanic upheaval which resulted in the utter destruction of that town and the death of nearly all its inhabitants.

The crater of Mont Pelee had been wearing its "smoke cap" since the 3d of May; but there was nothing until last Monday to indicate that there was the slightest danger. On that day a stream of boiling lava burst through the top of the crater and plunged into the valley of the river Blanche, overwhelming the Guerin sugar works and killing twenty-three working people and the son of the proprietor. A commission was appointed by the governor to investigate the outbreak and it returned a reassuring report on Wednesday evening. But about 8 o'clock on Thursday morning a shower of fire rushed down on St. Pierre and the coast from Le Carbet, which had a population of 6,000 to Le Pecheur, which had a population of 4,000, burning up every thing in its path.

Throughout Thursday the heat in the vicinity of St. Pierre was so intense and the stream of flowing lava was so unremitting that it was impossible to approach the town during the early part of the day. As evening approached the French cruiser Suchet, after a heroic battle with the heat, suffocation and sulphur flames succeeded in making a dash toward the shore, nearing the land close enough to enable her to take off thirty survivors of the disaster, all of whom were horribly burned and mutilated. St. Pierre at that time was an absolute, smoking waste, concealing 30,000 corpses, whose decomposition necessitated in some cases instantly completing their cremation, which was only partially accomplished by the lava.

The inhabitants of Fort de France were panic-stricken, the morning of the disaster, when the sky suddenly blackened and it was as dark as at midnight. The sea shrank back thirty yards and hot rain began to fall, while gravel, the size of walnuts, began to fall on the town. This lasted about fifteen minutes.

The 450 survivors who were brought here Saturday from St. Pierre by the French cable repair ship Pouyer Guerties came from the town of Le Pecheur, where surrounded on all sides by flowing lava, they were fairly roasting to death and expected momentarily to be engulfed.

The work of relief is progressing here on the most extensive scale possible, but in anticipation of disturbances, the treasury building and warehouse are guarded by troops.

The latest reports received here showed that lava continues to pour down the slopes of the mountain, slowly engulfing the whole north side of the island, while fresh crevasses are continually opening.

—The handsome home of the Young Men's Republican club at Williamsport is to be sold by the sheriff May 31. Since it was erected in 1893 there has been a mortgage of $15,000 against it. Failure of the club to pay the interest is the cause of foreclosure.

—The Eight Avenue Methodist Episcopal church at Altoona was dedicated with appropriate services Sunday, Bishop Fowler preached the Dedicatory sermon. J. W. Powell, of Buffalo, who had charge of the finances, performed the same service for our Methodist people here last Spring.

—"Bill" Philips, the negro who shot and killed George Roney, another colored man, entered pleas of guilty of murder in the second degree for the killing of Roney and guilty of assault with intent to kill for shooting at Cora Williams, his mistress, at the court at Clearfield Thursday. The court accepted the pleas and Philips was sentenced to 15 years in the Western penitentiary on the murder plea and to three years in the same institution on the assault plea. The crimes were committed last July at the Fulton tunnel, on the line of the West Branch railroad The Spruce Creek tunnel offenders a year ago were usually allowed to escape, where as the desperadoes are brought to a speedy justice in Clearfield county.

COLES FOR MAY.

Prognostications of the Kingston Weather Prophet.

Following are the May prognostications of Miss U. C. Coles, of Kingston, Pa.:

The planetary conditions are not very favorable for a quiet and peaceful month. Old red warrior Mars is sidetracked in sign Taurus, the bull. He will stir up strife and keep the whole world in a constant state of excitement.

Old Mother Earth is passing through the house of friends, therefore, if there is any tendency to bring about a peaceful feeling among the laboring class now is the time to adjust their claims and be at peace. Earth will be opposed by the house of children, therefore it will be well for parents to guard their children, as every one should pay strict attention to their health during the low ebb days of May. Many sudden deaths will occur this month.

Vegetables will also receive terrible affliction from the microbes, locusts, etc., that are coming.

Watch out for an epidemic of throat trouble this month. It will prove most fatal to those born in sign Taraus, unless the system is at once thoroughly cleansed.

The best days for fishing this month will be the 20th, 30th and 31st; the next best days will be the 17th, 19th, 24th and 26th.

The best days to sow cucumber and melon and all such running vine seeds will be the 17th, 18th and 19th.

A School Agreement 100 Years Old.

The following agreement for the employment of a teacher 100 years ago, in Haines township, Centre county, has been handed us by Postmaster J. E. McDowell, in its original form, it being a relic of Mrs. McDowell, the teacher, John McGhee, mentioned therein, being her grandfather: says the Raftman's Journal, of Clearfield.

ARTICLES OF AGREEMENTS, made and concluded this 18th day of December, A. D. 1802, between John McGhee, school master, of the one part, and the subscribers of the other part, both parties being of the township of Haines, county of CENTRE, WITNESSETH AND SAITH:

That the said McGhee on his part doth promise to teach an English school, and to teach all such children as are committed to his care, reading, writing and arithmetic, as far as his skill and their abilities will admit, for the term of one year, reserving to himself every other Saturday and two weeks in harvest.

And we, the subscribers, do on our part promise to find him in a sufficient school house with every accommodation necessary and find for him a stove in the winter season with plenty of firewood; and we likewise promise to pay him for the said term of one year the sum of forty pounds, one half of the same at end of first six months, and the remainder at the expiration of the year. We likewise promise to find him a sufficient board during said term. Witnesseth whereof we, the subscribers, interchangeable set our hands and number of scholars.

—Johnstown Tribune: Local National Guardsmen give little credence to the stories of the disbandment of the Fifth Regiment, N. G. P., and there attachment of its companies to other commands. They do say, however, that there is some objection in official circles to the removal of regimental headquarters from Altoona to Lewistown, seventy miles eastward. They say there is dissatisfaction with having headquarters on the extreme edge of the regimental territory which extends from Blairville on the west to Lewistown on the east, a distance of 113 miles with branches to Indiana, Clearfield, Bellefonte, and Hollidaysburg. The Fifth covers practically all the central mining regions, and those who claim to know say the commander of the regiment should be centrally located and it is possible that Colonel Elder will be asked to move to Altoona.

Butchers Will Close Their Shops.

NEW YORK, May 12.—Fifteen hundred retail Kosher butchers of the East Side met yesterday to consider the advance in prices of meat by the wholesale Kosher butchers. In an attempt to force down the price yesterday's meeting decided that the retail shops should be closed all day today and Tuesday and that no meat should be bought from the wholesalers on those days. The question of a continuance of the refusal to buy meat will be discussed at a meeting to be held Tuesday night.

SHERADEN'S HORROR

Dead Numbers Twenty-three According to the Latest Revised Estimate.

INJURED MAKE A LIST OF 202

This Many Is a Certainty. But Many Got Away Before Their Names Could be Ascertained.

SAD SCENES BROUGHT TO LIGHT

PITTSBURG, May 14.—A careful and systematic search for the dead and injured in the Sheraden horror of Monday revealed Tuesday night a list of twenty-three dead and 202 injured. The complete list of the injured may never be known as many were able to get away without making known their identity. A conservative estimate, made by those thoroughly familiar with the situation, places the number more or less than 300.

The official list of dead as given out by the coroner last night is as follows:

Elbert Berry, aged 15, lived at Sheraden, Hugh Flaherty, aged 65, Esplen; Dallas Byrd, aged 26, New Cumberland, W. Va.; Antonio Leo, aged 33, Sheraden; ——— Finnerty, aged 40, Sistersville, W. Va.; Lawrence Keenan, aged 17, Carnegie, Pa.; Harry S. Smithley, aged 20, Uhrichsville, O; George D. Wilson, aged 15, Sheraden; Matthew L. Marnon, aged 24, McKee's Rocks; Donald Smith, aged 9, Sheraden; William H. Fife, aged 10, Sheraden; Charles Haertig, aged 14, Green Tree borough; Walter E. Rice, aged 31, Dorrancetown, Luzerne county; Elmer E. Hunter, aged 37, Sheraden; W. W. Taylor, aged 24, Miller's Station, O.; Pascol Mader, aged 40, Sheraden; W. E. Reise; Walter E. Wright, Sheraden; two unknown men at Pittsburg morgue; unknown boy; an Italian section foreman.

This list will likely be added to during the night, as quite a number of the victims at the hospital are reported by the physicians to be in such condition that it will be a miracle if they survive.

There are scores of people in Sheraden who should be in the hospital, but for want of room they are being cared for by friends. Some of this class are also expected to die.

The scenes in and around Sheraden were pitiful in the extreme. Practically every house in the village had one or more injured inmates and in many homes mourning families were gathered about the charred and distorted remains of loved ones who were victims of the horrible calamity. Many children were caught by the flames Monday and as a result the two public school buildings Tuesday were almost deserted. Of the 700 pupils enrolled there were but 200 in attendance at the sessions yesterday.

Of the 500 absent, Professor Hannum estimates 100 were injured. The children have started a fund for the aid of their unfortunate schoolmates, some of whom are in need of financial assistance.

The damage to property by the explosions and fire will be heavy. The loss at the mouth of Cork's Run tunnel alone will probably exceed $100,000. In addition to the heavy loss by the railroad company, twenty-five houses were destroyed either by the force of the explosions or by the fire which followed.

The Forty Hour Devotion.

The forty hour devotion services began in St. John's Catholic church Sunday morning at 8 o'clock with high mass conducted by Rev. Father McArdle and continued until Tuesday evening. During these services the following priests assisted Father McArdle. Reverends Father Zurick, of Snow Shoe, Codori and Saas of Lock Haven and Looney, of Renova.

—"As the result of the recent trip of President Cassatt and other officials of the Pennsylvania railroad to Pittsburg, a new line from the stock yards at East Liberty to a connection with the Allegheny Valley road is likely to be built in the very near future," said Vice President Pugh Saturday. "The line will be comparatively short and its construction will cost about $300,000, the most expensive feature in connection with its construction being that of damages, as a portion of the line will run through a closely built-up section, the rest being through practically an open country.—Philadelphia Record.

—Don't delay a minute. Cholera infantum, dysentery, diarrhoea came suddenly. Only safe plan is to have Dr. Fowler's Extract of Wild Strawberry always on hand.

A SUDDEN DEATH.

H. T. Harvey Esq., of Lock Haven, psin Court Room.

H. T. Harvey Esq., of Lock Haven, one of Clinton county's most prominent lawyers, dropped dead Wednesday morning in the Court room at Lock Haven, while in the act of examining a witness.

Mr. Harvey was the attorney for Rev. Groes, of Loganton, who was on trial for adultery, and was in the act of examining one of his witnesses Dr. J. H. Hayes, of Lock Haven, when he suddenly exclaimed "Doctor I am fainting." The doctor said "lie down." Harvey arose from his chair but gradually sank to the floor where he expired in a few minutes. Apoplexy was the cause of death. Mr. Harvey was apparently perfectly well when he entered the Court room.

Henry T. Harvey was born in 1842, graduated from State College, was a successful lawyer and connected with the Lock Haven Trust Company.

He is survived by a wife and two children, his son Henry T., Jr., a student at Bucknell College and a daughter, Lulu, who is visiting friends in Pittsburg.

Mr. Harvey's death occurred about 10 o'clock. Judge Mayer adjourned court until 2 o'clock in the afernoon and on convening adjourned again for the balance of the week.

Water Street.

The Borough Council has advertised for bids for the erection of a new pumping station. This is an improvement that should be made if the Borough finances permit, since the water works and its surroundings are inadequate to the present needs. A railroad siding by which the Borough could get its coal by the carload delivered, at the pumps, and scales, not only to weigh the coal but as a source of revenue, would be a desirable adjunct.

Rumor has it that Council is contemplating the expenditure of six thousand dollars on these improvements, which includes the building of a two or three story structure with halls, etc., for the use of pubic officials in some way or other. This would seem to be unnecessary and at this time decidedly improvident.

The Borough's greatest need at present is the building of a substantial retaining wall along the eastern side of the Creek from a point above the dam to the right-of-way of the Central Railroad Company of Pennsylvania. This wall should be at least as high as the high water mark of this year's flood with a good stone pavement along its entire length protected by a neat iron railing. It would not only add to what should be the natural beauty of Spring Creek, but would be a long needed protection to the property owners. For some years the value of Water Street property has been increasing largely and the interests of this location should be cared for.

Ever since the abandonment of the old canal Water street has been treated as an alley, but during the past ten years much money has been spent by the property owners and numerous improvements have sprung up along this street that demand some recognition.

Has Struck It Rich.

O. T. Switzer, of Philipsburg, has returned from his journey of exploration through Alaska and British Columbia.

During the trip Mr. Switzer suffered hardships which few men could have survived, but nothing daunted he stayed in the country for four years and achieved the success which he so justly deserves.

During his exploration Mr. Switzer succeeded in locating what he believes to be one of the richest gold placer mines that the world has ever seen, some of the gravel and dirt running as high as $56 per cubic yard. The full extent of his property is 1,280 acres, embodying the old creek bed of Pine creek and extending back over three miles.

Mr. Switzer has succeeded in interesting some prominent Philadelphians in his property. He will return north in July to instal his machinery and begin taking out the gold from the richest parts of the property.

The "Bellefonters"

The carpenters and decorators started to work on the scenery at the Opera house at 7 a. m. today and the final rehearsa will take place at 7:30 tonight. Mr. Chas. Geesey, the director, says that the "Bellefonters" will be the best show that he has had this season. The "Bellefonters" will be one of the society events of the season.

Only a few tickets remain on the chart for Thursday. The prospects are that the house will be crowded to the doors. Proceeds are for the benefit of the Methodist church.

HE HAD A BIG HEART.

An Old Miner Who Was Mark Twain's Ideal Gentleman.

"The finest gentleman I ever knew," said Mark Twain in a chat with a reporter one day, "was an old California miner wso could barely write his own name. He was a forty-niner, and he and his partner had struck it rich in the early days. The old man had neither chick nor child, and he had worked hard all his life, and when he did get his money he hardly knew what to do with it.

"He did not try to jump into society or to push his way with the 'big fellows' there. He continued to live with the people whom he had associated with all his life, and many an act of kindness was done, many a wandering son and father saved, many a sorrowing woman's burden lightened and her home brightened by an unknown donor whose identity with the old man was only known to a few.

"It was different with the partner. He had a wife and two daughters with social aspirations, and after a whole lot of pushing and hauling and shoving they landed in society. The expense was too much of a drain on the husband's purse, and he speculated, with the inevitable outcome. He lost his entire fortune and then shot himself. Then it was that the true gentleness of the old man showed itself. The widow and her daughters had no one to turn to but him, and he did not disappoint them. He saved their home for them when everything else went under the hammer, and he maintained them in all the regal style to which they were accustomed, although he still lived in his old lodgings. He lived long enough to see both of the girls well married and the mother carefully settled for life. Then he died in a charity hospital in San Francisco. He had spent every penny he owned on the family of his partner."—St. Louis Republic.

Breathe Through Your Nose.

In all kinds of atmosphere the breath should only be inhaled through the nose. An occasional breath of extra pure air through the mouth may be good, but in cars and in most offices and rooms nose breathing is essential. A second rule is, since so much time is spent in cars and offices and rooms in earning a livelihood and since these places are overheated and underventilated—the heating and ventilation being out of the control of most of us—we must take in fresh air whenever possible in order that we may restore the balance. The best times to do this will be early in the morning, when the air is freshest, and late at night, when deep breathing will help us to get sleep. We may breathe correctly while we are waiting in a street and especially where streets meet. We can soon form an automatic habit of breathing properly on such occasions.

Two Great Painters.

When in Haarlem, Vandyke called upon Frank Hals and, without making himself known, said that he was anxious to have his portrait painted, but, as he was in a great hurry, he could spare but two hours, at the end of which the portrait must be done. Hals went to work and finished it, and Vandyke was much pleased. But portrait painting seemed a very little thing, said Vandyke, and he asked Hals to change places with him. Hals did so, and as Vandyke finished his work Hals hugged him enthusiastically, saying: "You are Vandyke. No one but he can do what you have done." And so the two great masters became acquainted.

Cæsar Borgia.

Cæsar Borgia has been called "the greatest practical statesman of his age," and in a sense the remark is true, for at a time when practical statesmanship consisted of every deceit and every crime, when poison and the dagger were the usual implements of policy, and nothing was considered wrong provided that the object were attained, no man excelled him in the arts of public life.—William Miller, "Mediæval Rome."

Hogarth-Karkruff Nuptials.

Wednesday evening at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Hogarth, 210 West street, Miss Lillian M. Hogarth and Warren F. Karkruff, of Toronto, Canada, were united in marriage by the Rev. Thomas H. Johnson, rector of St. Mary's Episcopal church. Miss Eleanor Maitland attended the bride. W. B. Maitland, grandfather of the bride, gave her away. It was a very pretty wedding, and at the conclusion supper was served. Music was furnished by the Fowler orchestra.—Williamsport Sun.

The bride is well known in this place having visited here quite often.

A Lesson in Health.

Healthy kidneys filter the impurities from the blood, and unless they do this good health is impossible. Foley's Kidney Cure makes sound kidneys and will positively cure all forms of kidney and bladder diseases. It strengthens the whole system. C. M. Parrish.

Must Have New Time Pieces.

Many of the Philadelphia and Erie train men will have to purchase new time pieces. They have been ordered to have their watches inspected by Inspector Miller, who is going over the system, as early as possible. Every watch that is stem winded or stem set is condemned unless there is a catch lever. The reason is obvious, It is a precaution against watches being missed by contact in the trainmen's pocket.

Wants Others to Know.

I have used DeWitt's Little Early Risers for constipation and torpid liver and they are all right. I am glad to indorse them for I think when we find a good thing we ought to let others know it," writes Alfred Heinze, Quincy, Ill., They never gripe or distress. Sure, safe pills. C. M. Parrish.

Glenn—Sellers.

Thomas Glenn and Miss Grace Sellers, of Fillmore, were married last Wednesday afternoon at the Methodist parsonage in Bellefonte by the Rev. Mr. Shriner.

Mr. Glenn is the oldest son of William Glenn, of Rock, and the young Mrs. Glenn is the daughter of Mac Sellers, of Fillmore. They are estimable children of good parents, and have the best wishes of all for a long and happy married life.

—Brazilian Balm loosens the cough and cures the cold like magic. Then, it does not injure the ears or wreck the kidneys like quinine.

—The tremendous rush for office is aptly illustrated in Kansas. The Eldorado Republican, of that state, says that a janitor of the State House, fell into the Kaw river, a few daws since, and two men who witness it, instead of assisting the helpless man rushed to the governor to get his job, when they were informed that they were to late, another man had telephone for the place. And, after all the janitor wasn't drowned.

Kodol Dyspepsia Cure
Digests what you eat.
C. M. Parrish.

Don't Start Wrong.

Don't start the summer with a lingering cough or cold. We all know what a "summer cold" is. It's the hardest kind to cure. Often it "hangs on" through the entire season. Take it in hand right now. A few doses of One Minute Cough Cure will set you right. Sure cure for coughs, colds, grip, bronchitis, all throat and lung trouble. Absolutely safe. Acts at once. Children like it. "One Minute Cough Cure is the best cough medicine I ever used, "says J. H. Bowles, Groveton, N. H. "I never found anything else that acted so safe and quickly." C. M. Parrish.

—Three young bicycle riders of Tyrone, came upon a black snake stretched across the road which leads up to Hundred Springs park. The snake measured five feet and thirteen inches in length and six inches round. The measuring was accomplished after the boys had killed the snake.

TURKEY AND SILVER

Offered to Judge Cyrus Gordon of Clearfield by License Applicant.

A TENDER OF CASH WAS ALSO MADE

When Insinuations of Bribery Were Made by a Clearfield County Newspaper, the Editor Was Charged With Libel.

JUDGE GORDON AS A WITNESS

CLEARFIELD, May 8.—The surprising spectacle of the president Judge of a judicial district admitting on the witness stand that he had received turkeys from and had been offered silverware and money by an applicant for license to sell liquor was the chief feature in the Clearfield Quarter Sessions Court Wednesday.

Judge Morrison, of McKean county, specially presiding, the case on trial is that of Commonwealth vs Charles Bangert; editor of the Fall Creek Herald, charged with maliciously libeling B. K. Fisher, former proprietor of a Dubois hotel. The series of articles and cartoons complained of charged Fisher with running a "tough" house, and alleged that he depended upon his "pull" with the Court to save him from the wrath of the people at license court.

PROFFERS OF TURKEY AND SILVER.

One of the cartoons represented Fisher trading turkeys and silverware for his license certificate. In justification of this allegation and also to prove that Fisher was a briber as charged in another article, the defense summoned Judge Cyrus Gordon, who has been very ill for several weeks, to take the witness stand.

In answer to the several questions, Judge Gordon admitted that he had received a dressed turkey from Fisher just before one of the License Courts at which Fisher was an applicant and received a license. Previous to another License Court he received a couple of pieces o valuable silverware, a punch bowl and a holder of some kind, but when he saw Fisher's name engraved thereon he returned them through Fisher's attorney. Fisher received license that term also.

After he refused Fisher's applicatio last January, Fisher sought Judge Gordon at his office several times, ostensibly to talk about this libel case, but each time he talked of securing a rehearing of his license application.

OFFERED MONEY TO THE JUDGE.

Finally Fisher came to his residence on a morning before he was out of bed and insisted upon seeing him. At this meeting, after talking about the libel case, Fisher drew his hand from his pocket and extended it toward the witness. The latter said he believed the hand contained money, and he told Fisher he should know better, and started to walk towards the door.

Fisher apologized and told him he wanted to make a contribution to his campaign fund. Judge Gordon said he told Fisher the campaign was not yet in sight, and let him out of the door.

The case was on when court adjourned Wednesday night.

A Card of Thanks.

Mrs. Lemuel Felding, of Clintondale, wishes to express her thanks for the aid and sympathy given her during the late fire and in her bereavement, and assures all of her heartfelt gratitude for their kindness.

Blood.

We live by our blood, and on it. We thrive or starve, as our blood is rich or poor.

There is nothing else to live on or by.

When strength is full and spirits high, we are being refreshed, bone muscle and brain, in body and mind, with continual flow of rich blood.

This is health.

When weak, in low spirits, no cheer, no spring, when rest is not rest and sleep is not sleep, we are starved; our blood is poor; there is little nutriment in it.

Back of the blood, is food, to keep the blood rich. When it fails, take Scott's Emulsion of Cod Liver Oil. It sets the whole body going again—man woman and child.

If you have not tried it, send for free sample, its agreeable taste will surprise you.

LATEST COURT NEWS.

Big Damage Suit Against Pennsylvania Railroad Won by Defendant Company.

Specially Reported for the "Republican" by W. Harrison Walker, Esq.

In the case of W. C. Farner, D. J. Tressler and William Boal, Trustees for the Centre Hall congregation of the Evangelical Association, vs. Joseph Alters, J. S. Dauberman, J. H. Krumbine and J. F. Smith. Trustees for the United Evangelical church of Centre Hall, plaintiffs asked permission to change the title of the case and instead of William Boal to add the name of Mr. Swartz, who had recently been elected one of the trustees. The Court allowed this amendment, but on motion of defendants, they pleading "surprise," the case was continued at coste of plaintiffs. This is an action of ejectment, plea, not guilty.

The jury in the case of John W. Beckwith, use of John A. Logue and W. A. Hartsock, administratore of Josephine Williams, deceased, vs. The National Insurance Company, rendered a verdict in favor of the plaintiff in the sum of $1,-184.11. From the evidence it appeared that the adjusters who were sent by the company to adjust the loss of plaintiff fixed the sum at $1,075.00, two-thirds of which was to have been paid in cash. Plaintiffs refused to accept that amount and therefore entered suit against the defendant company.

The case of Minerva Belle Snyder vs. The Pennsylvania Railroad Company was called Wednesday morning.

This was an action brought by plaintiff against the defendant company for damages sustained in the loss of her husband, who was accidently killed at or near Howard on the 21st day of October, 1900. Mr. Snyder was fireman on a certain freight train running from Lock Haven to Tyrone, passing Howard about 1 o'clock on the day stated.

From the evidence it appeared that several cows were lying near the tracks of the defendant company and as the train approached the cows ran on the track which caused the engine to leave the tracks. Mr. Snyder was found dead under the engine.

After the plaintiff had closed the attorney for the Railroad company made a motion for a compulsory non suit, which, after considerable argument by attorneys representing both plaintiff and defendant, the Court granted the motion.

Dead Body Found.

The remains of a dead man, supposed to be the body of George Maxwell, who disappeared from Houtzdale in November, were found in the woods near Sandy Ridge Tuesday evening. The body was so badly decomposed as to make identification a very difficult thing.

A jury was impannelled to hold an inquest in the hope of developing full particulars. Mr. Maxwell is reported to have had an insurance of $10,000 on his life.

Benjamin Couperthwaite, of Osceola, informs us that two years ago a barber by the name of Frank Elitson came to his place when he was keeping hotel at Sandy Ridge. He left some of his clothing, and started to walk across the mountain. Since that time nothing has been heard of him, nor did he arrive at Christ Shearer's, near Hannah Furnace, the place of his destination. He had some barber tools with him and wore a heavy black overcoat. Some think the body of the dead man found Tuesday might be the missing barber.

Uncommon Colds.

"It is just a common cold," people say, "there's no danger in that." Admitting their statement, then there are uncommon colds, colds which are dangerous; for many a fatal sickness begins with a cold. If we could tell the common cold from the uncommon we could feel quite safe. But we can't. The uncommon variety is rarely recognized until it has fastened its hold on the lungs, and there are symptoms of consumption.

Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery cures coughs, bronchitis, "weak" lungs and other diseases of the organs of respiration. It increases the supply of pure, rich blood and builds up the emaciated body.

"I took a severe cold which settled in the bronchial tubes," writes Rev. Frank Hay, of Nortonville, Jefferson Co., Kansas. After trying medicines labeled 'Sure Cure,' almost without number, I was led to try Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery. I took two bottles and was cured, and have stayed cured. When I think of the great pain I had to endure, and the terrible cough I had, it seems almost a miracle that I was so soon relieved. That God may spare you many years and abundantly bless you is the prayer of your grateful friend."

If you ask your dealer for "Golden Medical Discovery" because you have confidence in its cures, do not allow yourself to be switched off to a medicine claimed to be "just as good," but which you did not ask for and of which you know nothing.

Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets cure dizziness and sick headache.

Mary and the Meat Trust.

Mary had a little lamb.
With mint sauce on the side;
When Mary saw the Meat Tru-sts' bill,
It shocked her so she cried.

Mary had a little veal—
A cutlet, nicely broiled.
Her papa, to pay for that veal,
All morning sorely toiled.

Mary had a little steak—
A porterhouse, quite small.
And when the bill came in, she sighed
"No dress for me next fall.

Mary had a little roast—
As juicy as could be—
And Mary's papa simply went
Right into bankruptcy.

Mary isn't eating meat:
She has a better plan;
She vows it's ladylike to be
A vegetarian.

NEW YORK SENSATION

Paul Leicester Ford, the Novelist, Murdered by His Brother Malcolm.

WHO THEN COMMITTED SUICIDE

Few Particulars of the Tragedy Given to the Public—The Cause a Matter of Conjecture.

BROTHERS NOT ON GOOD TERMS

NEW YORK, May 9.—Paul Leicester Ford, the novelist, was shot and killed yesterday by his brother, Malcolm Webster Ford, writer and athlete, who immediately sent a bullet into his own breast, dying instantly. The shooting occurred at 10:20 a. m., in the handsome new mansion which Paul Leicester had built at 57 East Seventy-seventy street, and had occupied it for about a year.

At the time of the shooting there were in the house besides the two brothers, Mrs. Paul Leicester Ford, Miss Elizabeth R. Hall, the novelist's secretary, and the servants. The novellet was sitting at his desk in one corner of his library. Miss Hall was at her desk in another corner of the room. Mrs. Paul Leicester Ford was in her own room on an upper floor.

Malcolm Ford called as he had often done and went to his brother at his desk. Words were exchanged in a tone so low that Miss Hall could not hear what was said. Suddenly there was a revolver shot and Miss Hall, jumping up, darted from the room.

Meanwhile Malcolm Ford had called her. She turned toward him, he placed his revolver to his heart, fired and fell dying instantly. When Miss Hall turned to look at Paul he was still standing at his desk, but rapidly losing strength. She helped him to a sofa and then ran next door for Mr. Ford's physician. On arrival of the physician the dying man, still conscious, was carried up to his room. He spoke to his wife. A few moments later, about twenty minutes after he was shot, Mr. Ford died.

The father of Mrs. Paul Leicester Ford, Edward H. Kidder, of Brooklyn, was the first person to arrive after the physician.

Mr. Kidder refused to make any statement in regard to the shooting except a brief memorandum which was given to the police. In this it was said that the cause of the shooting could only be surmised. Information from other sources makes it appear that Malcolm Ford called to get money from his brother and meeting with a refusal, shot him. Dr. Baruch said that the murder was a result of temporary mental aberration on the part of Malcolm Ford, due to nervous exhaustion.

It is said that there was enmity between the two brothers and consequent bitterness and that it was of eleven years' standing; that never since the death of their father have they been on intimate or brotherly terms. This alleged enmity on the part of Malcolm is said to have been brought about by the fact that the father of the boys disinherited Malcolm and that this action on the father's part was because he did not wish Malcolm to devote himself to an athletic career.

Paul Leicester Ford was 37 years old, a novelist of much note, "Janice Meridith" being perhaps his most popular novel. He was married about a year ago to Miss Grace Kidder, of Brooklyn. He was the son of Gordon Lester Ford, of Brooklyn, who died eleven years ago, and left an estate of some $2,000,000, divided between his children, with the exception of Malcolm W. who was disinherited by the will. Mr. Ford is the author of "The Hon. Peter Stirling," "The Great K. and A. Train Robbery," "Janice Meredith," and other novels. He also edited the writings of Thomas Jefferson and numerous other works relating to American history and bibliography.

Remodeling An Old Plant.

Old Red bank, an ore operation on the Sheldon farm in Nittany valley, that for sixty years had been worked by the Eagle iron works at Roland, is being remantled and will supply ore again to that historic old forge.

As it is well known that Messrs. John M. Dale and H. R. Curtin are now operating the plant very successfully under the firm name of the Curtin Forge Co. When a new corporation took over the Valentine iron ore field it was necessary for them to find another bank at which to get the ore they needed, hence the remantling of Red bank. A new boiler, engine and pump have already been installed and workmen are now busily engaged in putting in a complete washer.

They expect to have the mine going again in a few weeks and will work it to its utmost capacity.

HELD FOR TRIAL.

Joseph Wolf Given a Hearing Wednesday Evening—Bail Reduced to $300.

Joseph Wolf, the young man charged with assaulting little 12 year old Amelia Neese, was given a hearing before 'Squire Keichline Wednesday evening at 7 o'clock. District Attorney Spangler represented the Commonwealth while J. C. Meyer, Esq., defended Wolf. There was a big crowd present and witnesses had hard work getting in and out of the room. The hearing lasted two hours and both sides were heard.

The Commonwealth called a great many witnesses among them being Ella Neese, who was with her sister Amelia when the assault took place, and she positively identified Wolf as the man.

Amelia Neese, the victim of the assault, was next called and in a clear, distinct voice told the complete story of the affair. She said she was positive that Wolf was the man.

George Spicer, who is working for Henry Lowry, said he saw Wolf that afternoon going toward Bishop street.

The defendant called a great many witnesses. Joseph Wolf, the defendant, testified that he was helping his mother clean house up until 3:30 p. m. when he went to work in Joe McCulley's garden where he worked until dark. He was corroborated in his testimony by Mrs. McCulley, his mother, father and little sister.

George Smith, who lives on East High street where he can look into the McCulley garden, testified that he worked in his own garden all the afternoon but did not see anybody in the McCulley yard.

Both sides scored many good points at the hearing and public opinion seems divided as to the guilt or innocence of the defendant.

'Squire Kelchline bound him over to court for trial. His bail which had been fixed at $1,000 was reduced to $300.

Memorial Day Orders.

{ GENERAL ORDERS No. 11.
{ PHILADELPHIA, April 28, 1902.

Time, in its flight, brings once more the season when our thoughts recur to the past, when war with all its horrors darkened our land, and rent asunder the bond of unity, sealed by the blood of the heroes of the Revolution. Happily to-day, the Angel of Peace spreads her wings over our country, which is united under one flag, the Emblem of Liberty. Again we approach the time when, with flowers of spring, we stand beside the graves, in which lie the forms of our veteran comrades, who gave so much to their country.

I. Our annual Memorial Day ritual is a simple one, that appeals to the warmest sympathy of the heart. "We meet for no empty show, or useless parade, but to testify from full and overflowing hearts, that the remembrances of their sacrifices have not grown dim with passing years."

"With sable draped banners and slow measured tread,
The flower laden ranks pass the gates of the dead;
And seeking each mound where a comrade's form rests,
Leave tear bedewed garlands to bloom on his breast."

II. Posts will arrange for attendance at Divine Service on Sunday May 25th. This custom has now become general, and Post Commanders should urge upon comrades a full attendance in G. A. R. uniform.

III. Wherever practicable, visits to the Public Schools should be made and lessons of patriotism should be taught to the children. It needs no flowery orations to interest the pupils in our schools.

IV. In localities where there are more than one Post, arrangements will be made by them for division of the work. Interest your societies in your vicinity, to join in the ceremonies of Memorial Day.

V. Comrades, keep in mind the meaning of this beautiful observance, and determine you will give this day in remembrance of your dead comrades. Excursions, games, and other frivolous enjoyments should be ignored on this sacred day, by every comrade of the Grand Army of the Republic.

By Command of Department Commander Levi. G. McCauley.

CHAS. F. KENNEDY
Assistant Adjutant General.

Superintendents and Teachers are requested to preserve this issue of our paper and have above orders read on Friday May 23d.

Women as Well as Men Are Made Miserable by Kidney Trouble.

Kidney trouble preys upon the mind, discourages and lessens ambition; beauty, vigor and cheerfulness soon disappear when the kidneys are out of order or diseased.

Kidney trouble has become so prevalent that it is not uncommon for a child to be born afflicted with weak kidneys. If the child urinates too often, if the urine scalds the flesh or if, when the child reaches an age when it should be able to control the passage, it is yet afflicted with bed-wetting, depend upon it, the cause of the difficulty is kidney trouble, and the first step should be towards the treatment of these important organs. This unpleasant trouble is due to a diseased condition of the kidneys and bladder and not to a habit as most people suppose.

Women as well as men are made miserable with kidney and bladder trouble, and both need the same great remedy. The mild and the immediate effect of Swamp-Root is soon realized. It is sold by druggists, in fifty-cent and one dollar sizes. You may have a sample bottle by mail free, also pamphlet telling all about it, including many of the thousands of testimonial letters received from sufferers cured. In writing Dr. Kilmer & Co., Binghamton, N. Y., be sure and mention this paper.

A DESERTED MACHINE.

The independent voter of this great Commonwealth of ours must look upon the present political situation with much pleasure. It is the time of the machine's tribulation.

In the past, when a man has chosen to array himself against the bosses, he has been subject to endless abuse and wholesale vituperation. If he happened to be well known and dared express his opinions, whether upon the stump or in written articles, against the machine, he was denounced by its organs as a kicker, traitor, insurgent, or in any other phrase that might tickle its subservient fancy.

Who are the insurgents now? Who are entitled to the opprobrious terms that have been used so unsparingly in former days? Quayities, Elkinites, Independents, Insurgents are among the various names under which the contest for leadership of the Republican party of Pennsylvania is being fought. Do the men who have started and encouraged these factions realize that the next election is of national importance; and, that if the party is split up into three or four different elements, the Democrats will be likely to capture several congressional districts which would ordinarily send Republican members to congress?

If this were a contest simply between bossism and the people, it would be right to fight it to the bitter end, but the last few campaigns have made wonderful changes. The machine, deserted by the man who made it, seems about on its last legs. Burdened by years of indulgence in public plunder it now finds itself unable to carry the weight of its proposed candidate for governor.

Its former master, breaking away from its ranks, has taken a new stand and indicated as his choice for the position a man of the highest integrity, at one time himself an insurgent.

The great need of our party is for wise councils and wise leaders. All those who have worked and voted for better men and better government in the past can see in the present state of affairs much of which they can be proud.

This situation, which seems about to place in the governor's chair a man who is not the mere creature of a boss, has alone resulted from the untiring efforts of those whose time and money has been spent so freely for the welfare of our state. It is a good time for Pennsylvania; let us hope it is but the beginning of our political improvement.

ONE of the most imposing funerals which has occurred in Washington for many years was that of Rear-Admiral Sampson which took place on last Friday. The President, representatives of the Supreme Court of both houses of Congress, all the executive departments and of practically every embassy and legation in the city gathered at the Church of the Covenant to do honor to the deceased Admiral and a large military escort accompanied the remains to their last resting place in Arlington cemetery. The usual discharge of rifles over the grave was omitted and in lieu thereof a battery of the Fourth Artillery boomed outside the cemetery gates. The sounding of "taps" by the solitary bugler stationed at the head of the grave completed the funeral obsequies of the departed commander.

The late Secretary of Agriculture J. Sterling Morton opposed the free distribution of seed as being too paternalistic for this form of government, and on that score found himself at odds with Congress, where the seeds were used as political perquisites.

LLOYD'S Register, the authority on shipping, says that Great Britain has one-half the total tonnage of the world. The fifth largest vessel owner is the United States Steel Corporation, the two leading German trans—Atlantic lines being first and second.

HAMILTON AGAIN!

How an important department of the state administration, originally created for the benefit of the citizens, can be abused and mishandled by petty politicians, is the problem so easily solved by our distinguished Secretary of Agriculture and his Dairy and Food Commissioner. If they were anxious to do their whole duty to the State, or if they were even seeking popular applause what an opportunity has presented itself in the hardships the so-called "Beef Trust" has forced upon the consumers of its product.

The people will justly condemn these officials for not taking prompt action against this combination; these departments alone can take proper measures toward the relief of this evil, but when were their chiefs ever accused of working for any other interests than their own. Prices on meats have been raised to a fearful height, but the high salaried officials need not count the cost, while hundreds of thousands of families are forced to do without what has become a daily necessity.

Hamilton and the crowd with whom he trains have exhibited one trait for which they may be praised, namely consistency. We always know where to find them, for they are always against the people.

WHEN William E. Chandler was Secretary of the Navy he issued an order that officers should not allow their wives to reside at the foreign stations to which they were attached. One day he received the following: "It becomes my painful duty to report that my wife, Eliza Fyffe, has, in disobedience to my orders and in the face of the regulations of the department, taken up her residence on the station and refuses to leave." It was written by Commodore Fyffe of the Asiatic squadron. The order was rescinded on the following day.

LORD Kelvin, the great physicist who is visiting this country, says we should not delay longer the adoption of the metric system Many manufacturers of the country say however, that it would cost more than it would be worth to make radical changes in weights and measures, necessitating confusing alterations in the size of machine parts etc.

WORK will soon be completed on the 16-inch gun which will be placed in New York harbor. This is the largest and most powerful gun in the world and experts are awaiting its test with interest. It will hurl a 3,000 projectile 21 miles, using 1,000 pounds of powder at a charge. The Krupp factory is skeptical as to its practicability.

C. E. BORCHGREVINK, the Norwegian explorer whose Antarctic investigations have made him famous, has just applied at Washington for naturalization papers as an American citizen. He will hereafter prosecute his explorations under the stars and stripes.

THE President has asked Congress to appropriate $200,000 for the expenses of a commission to investigate and report on a Pan-American railway to run down the axes of the American continents and connect North, Central and South America.

WITH beef prices 30 to 40 per cent higher than usual, and butter prices rising, there is a quandary in many families whether to kill the cow or give her a reprieve on condition that she will prove her worth as a butter maker.

MARYLAND has a new law which prohibits the use of the American flag or any representation of it for advertising purposes. There are similar laws in Massachusetts and other states. It is a law which every state should adopt.

DEWEY Day, May 1st, the anniversary of the battle of Manila Bay was not celebrated in Washington in any way. Even the local papers, for the first time on the anniversary, failed to mention Admiral Dewey.

NORMAL CATTLE SUPPLY BOTH WEST AND SOUTH.

From Grange Trade Bulletin.

From official reports by live stock boards, trade organizations and State bureaus of statistics it is learned that the supply of cattle on the big feeding ranges of the West and South is about normal in quantity and quality. Underestimates which have been issued by the Meat Trust are proved to be untrue.

AVAILABLE SUPPLY.

From reliable official reports the available supply of cattle from the states and territories west of the Mississippi on April 15th, 1902 was 5,383959 steers under two years of age; 4,127,581 under three years and 1,902,058 under four years.

HEAVY SPRING SHIPMENTS.

Drought in the territory tributary to the Kansas City market caused the demand to be smaller than usual last fall. The drought made feed of all kinds scarce, and the farmers, instead of buying more cattle, rushed those that they had upon the market half fat. The result was that a great many more aged steers than usual were left on the ranges. This circumstance has made the shipments from the ranges this spring extraordinarily large.

The railway agents estimated that the spring shipments from Texas would be between 90,000 and 100,000 head. How much greater the number of cattle is than was thought is proved by the fact that the shipments already exceed 130,000 head. This means that the high price of live stock has induced the farmers to this spring put on feed between 30,000 and 40,000 more Texas cattle alone than they would have done under normal conditions.

INCREASE IN RECEIPTS.

That the number of cattle is underestimated is proved by the fact that the commission merchants and banks of Kansas City have fully $22,500,000 loaned on cattle paper as against $25,000,000 in the best years.

In the territory directly tributary to the Chicago and St. Louis markets the situation is much more favorable. The number of cattle out of the full feed in Illinois, Ohio, Michigan, Wisconsin, Minnesota North and South Dakota, and all but Western Missouri is about 70 per cent. of what it was last year.

It is an extremely significant fact that the receipts at the Chicago and St. Louis markets have been so heavy since January 1 as to more than balance the decline at Kansas City. The aggregate reports of cattle at Chicago, Kansas City, Omaha and St. Louis since the first of the year have been 1,539,100 head, as against an aggregate of 1,451,600 during the same period of last year, an increase over last year of 77,500. In the Western markets other than Kansas City the increase over last year up to March 1 was 149,309 head.

PLENTY IN THE SOUTH.

In Missippi, Louisiana and Tennessee there are more cattle on feed now than ever before. Last fall, when corn was going so high that the Northern farmer quit buying feeders from Texas and the Southwest, Southern men seized upon the opportunity which offered itself and shipped thousands of head of cattle to their section, where they began fattening them upon cottonseed meal. Finding themselves unable to sell to the Northern feeders, the stock raisers of Texas also turned to cattle feeding as a business, and the number of fat cattle along the railway lines of the Lone Star State is extraordinarily large.

In the extreme West and Northwest—Montana, Wyoming, Idaho, Nevada, Oregon, Utah—the number of cattle being fed also is extraordinarily large. Thousands of those which were rushed upon the market last fall by the farmers, in Kansas City territory were bought by men from the Northwest, where the drought had not reached.

In view of these facts, the situation is much more encouraging than the present prices of live stock would indicate. Southern cattle will soon be in shape to go to market. The pastures of the middle of the country are becoming green, and it will not be long before grass-fed animals will be sold. And the Northwest also will soon be unloading its supplies upon the market.

CURRENT GRANGE NEWS OF INTEREST TO PATRONS.

There is a movement on foot for the establishment of a Grange home at Chautauqua, New York. Austerlitz Grange, the oldest in Columbia county, has now among its 140 members the lieutenant-governor, a circuit judge and a State senator.

Tioga county, (Pa) grange mutual fire insurance company showed that the total amount of insurance in force was $2,517,000, net gain $560,000 from last year, average cost to insured in past three years 70 cents on $100.

Here is a good suggestion as to best methods of creating and keeping an interest in a grange. Commence and close on time; have literary and musical program for each meeting keep the grange before the public by sending items to local papers; occasional suppers.

New Hampshire's subordinate granges have 24,208 members and 17 Pomonas have 7,355. Cash value of property owned by the granges is $106,566 including 42 grange halls No State has such a thorough system of deputy visitation. Pomona granges are divided into two districts subordinate into 32 with a deputy for each, visiting in February for instruction and in November for inspection.

The Cattaraugus Patrons' Fire Reliefassociation presents a good record having now in force nearly $900,000 insurance—gain of nearly $100,000 for the year 1901, and only an assessment of 10 cents per hundred for the year, with total expenses for five years $3,374.

A statement was made at the New Hampshire State Grange that the taxpayers have been saved $400,000 this year by legislation for which the Grange is responsible. Nine bills were presented by the legislative committee at the last session of the State legislature; eight have become laws.

A farmer in a neighboring town gave his daughter two chickens and told her if she would look after them he would feed the increase for four years. The girl did as the father suggested and the results, according to the father's statement, were somewhat astonishing. He says she has $64 in the bank and some 200 chickens which he has to feed. According to his best calculation his daughter will own the farm at the end of the four years and will be charging him rent for living in it. There's a good wife for some young and enterprising tiller of the soil.

Agriculture is the basic industry—an industry upon which all other industries depend for success. An industry which has furnished $7,266,000,000 of the $11,985,000,000 of exports of this country in the past ten years.—Otsego Farmer.

PROTECT THE BIRDS.

Birds are the natural enemies of insects. Our native birds except the pigeons and doves feed their young on an animal diet. Even birds of the pigeon tribe feed their nestlings on a grain dietary after it is macerated in the crop of the parent. Thus even this vegetable food is permeated with digestive fluids hence is of an animal character.

With the exception of the common English sparrow all the smaller species of birds which frequent the orchard, garden and lawn are highly beneficial to mankind and they should be protected.

Boxes should be provided about buildings for wrens, blue birds and martins all of which destroy immense numbers of harmful insects. The common barn swallow as well as other swallows which come around human habitations feed exclusively on an insect diet and every effort should be made to protect them by the farmer and fruit grower.

The noisy and beautiful blue jay consumers some insects but he does great damage to song and insect eating birds by robbing their nests and eating their eggs and young.

CAN'T BUY OR SELL BROOK TROUT.

Trout fisherman and others should understand that the law passed by the Legislative and opposed May 29, 1901, forbids the sale of brook or speckled trout by any person and forbids its purchase under a penalty of a fine of $25. The eighteenth section of the act says:

"That from and after the passage of this act it shall be unlawful for any proprietor, manager, clerk or agent of any market, hotel, boarding house, eating house, restaurant, or saloon, or any person, company or corporation in this Commonwealth, to purchase, sell or expose for sale any brook or speckled trout."

Any justice, alderman or magistrate, on information, can issue his warrant for the arrest of the party charged with the violation of the law, and shall hear the case. One-half of the fine and costs go to the informant and the other half to the county treasurer. If the party fined refuses to pay the fine he must go to the county jail one day for each dollar of fine unpaid.

The only exception to the law are those who breed and raise trout artificially in ponds owned or leased and occupied by them for that purpose. Trout fishermen should govern themselves accordingly. Ignorance of the law is no excuse.

ROOSEVELT AND THE TRUSTS.

The people of the United States are to be congratulated that they have a man for ruler who "does justice, loves mercy and walketh uprightly before God."

When a man commits a crime against the humblest human being as was done in the order to kill all the Philippines over ten years of age or enormous trusts are formed to arbitrarily raise the price of the necessaries of living as was done by the beef trust or the cost of transportation like the railroad merger the President proposes that they are to be tried like the common criminal irrespective of shoulder straps or millionaire Barons.

UNITED States Consul Williams at Singapore proposes a reconstruction of the political map of the world, through an exchange of the Philippines to Great Britian for Newfoundland, the British West Indies and the Bahamas. Incidentally he would have France, Holland and England surrender Guiana to be made a separate nation under our protection and have England turn Honduras over to Mexico. The Philippines would be transferred to a power that wants them, while the United States would gain in power and prestige by confining itself to its own side of the Atlantic and Pacific oceans.

ALMOST all the small turtles that are used in ornamental aquariums of the country come from the Potomac river flats at Washington, D. C., and about 4,000 of these young terrapins ranging from the size of a five-cent piece to a silver dollar, are shipped over the country every day in the spring.

IT is related that the editor of Punch once asked the late Frank R. Stockton for a story on any subject that he pleased "so long as it was not immoral." Even Stockton's most broadly humorous writings were notable for their purity of tone and delicacy of wit.

ALL the leading navies of the world use oars made exclusively of Louisiana ash, and the British government has just contracted for 10,000 pairs. Very few of the oars are actually made in Louisiana and the profits to the state would be very much increased if they were.

PROFESSOR H. W. Wiley, chief chemist of the Agricultural Department urges everyone to eat more cereals than they do, whether they want to spite the beef trust or not. He says they contain more actual nourishment than beef, leaving out all question of wit.

SEVERAL magazines are publishing "exclusive" accounts of Miss Stone's captivity.

No Stronger evidence can be had in Bellefonte.

Look well to their record. What they have done in many years gone by, is the best guarantee of future results. Anyone with a bad back any reader suffering from urinary troubles, from any kidney ills will find in the following evidence proof that relief and cure is near at hand.

> Mr. A. B. Steel of North Spring Street, says:—"I have never had a backache since I used Doan's Kidney Pills in 1896. I procured a box at that time from F. Potts Green's drug store and used them, but I have never had an occasion to use them since. I was so bad with lumbago or soreness across my kidneys that I had to lay off work. I was hurt at a barn raising some years ago by a heavy timber swinging and striking me in the back. After that whenever I took cold it always affected my kidneys. This was the case for years but Doan's Kidney Pills finished all my suffering. I can speak as highly of this valuable preparation now as I did then."

For sale by all dealers. Price 50 cents. Foster-Milburn Co., Buffalo, N. Y., sole agents for the U. S.

Remember the name—Doan's—and take no substitute.

TWENTY-FIVE years ago the banana was a curiosity in this country, and last year our import bill for this fruit was $7,000,000. One-third of the crop comes from the British West Indies and the rest from the different states of Central America.

Condemned in Missouri and Confiscated in New York.

Judge Clarke of St Louis has convicted and fined heavily a number of grocers for selling baking powders containing alum. The week before the Health Department of New York seized a quantity of stuff being sold for baking powder which they found was made from alum mixed with ground rock, and dumped it into the river. The Health Authorities are thus taking effective means to prevent the introduction in to our markets of injurious subetitutes in place of wholesome baking powders.

As alum costs only two cents a pound there is a great temptation for those manufacturers who make substitutes and imitation goods, to use it. Alum baking powders can be detected by the health authorities by chemical analysis but the ordinary housekeeper, whose assistance in protecting the health of the people is important, cannot make a chemical examination. She may easily know the alum powders however, from the fact that they are sold at from ten to twenty cents for a pound can, or that some prize like a spoon, or glass or piece of crockery or wooden ware—is given with the powder as an inducement. As the people continue to realize the importance of this subject and consumers insist on having baking powder of established name and character, and as the health authorities continue their vigorous crusades, the alum danger will it is hoped, finally be driven from our homes.

—Nature has just one pigment on her pallette with which she produces all the marvelous tints of beauty, and that one pigment is the blood. The shell like pink beneath the finger nails, the delicate rose of the cheek, the cherry ripeness of the lips, the irridescent brilliance of the eyes are all produced by the blood. Just as the permanence of a beautiful painting will depend upon the purity of the colors with which it is painted, so the permanence of beauty depends on the purity of the blood. Paint, powder and cosmetics won't avail to preserve beauty. Beauty begins in the blood. Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery is a true beautifier, because it provides for nature that pure blood with which alone she can paint. The use of this medicince will cleanse the skin, heighten the complexion, brighten the eyes, and give to face and form that radiance of health which is the greatest charm of beauty. Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets are very effective in ridding the system of clogging residnum which accumulates with constipated habit.

—Perry county is building a new jail on the site of the old one at New Bloomfield, and a temporary prison has been erected for use until the new one is ready for occupancy. Friday night last ten prisoners escaped from the temporary pen built of plank, and the officers are after the culprits. One of them is Louis fields, a colored man arrested some time ago. He was serving twenty months for throwing a stone through a car. Lewis Black, who was serving time for robbing cars, was another. Among the number were four boys who were in jail for burglary at Newport and the other four are train riders.

DOUBLED THE COLLECTION

A Scotchman's Scheme For Increasing the Church Contribution.

In a small town in England there is a rich congregation which is not characterized by lavish liberality. Time after time the minister had vainly appealed to his people to contribute more generously to the funds of the church. The members would indeed give something, but it was nearly always the smallest silver coin of the realm that was placed on the plate. A shrewd Scotchman who had recently come to the place and joined the church was not long in noticing this state of affairs, and a remedy soon suggested itself to his practical mind.

"I'll tell you what," he said to one of the officials, "if you mak' me treasurer I'll engage to double the collection in three months."

His offer was promptly accepted, and, sure enough, the collections began to increase until by the time he had stated they were nearly twice as much as formerly.

"How have you managed it, Mr. Sandyman?" said the pastor to him one day.

"It's a great secret," returned the canny Scot, "but I'll tell you in confidence. The folk, I saw, mostly gave threepenny bits. Weel, when I got the money every Sabbath morning I carefully picked oot the sma' coins and put them by. Noo, as there's a limited number of threepenny pieces in a little place like this and as I have maist o' them at present under lock and key, the folk maun give saxpences at least instead. Sae that's the way the collections are doubled."—Pearson's.

Diamond Cutters.

Speaking of women in the jewelry business, a diamond merchant said:

"In other branches of the jewelry trade than diamond cutting women have made some unqualified successes Not one of Eve's daughters, from royalty down, I should say, that isn't an artist in the wearing of diamonds. Many are well versed in the tricks of buying and selling them, while others give excellent satisfaction in polishing, setting them and preparing them for the market.

"But when it comes to the real cutting of the stones they lack the patience, judgment and steadiness of nerve which constitute the expert's stock in trade. It would seem that diamonds have the same effect upon the woman who wishes to shape them that they do on the girl who sees one of them sparkling in her new engagement ring—puts her in a tremor of excitement; hence diamond cutters are invariably men."

Kruger and the Queen's Ball.

The following letter was written by the private secretary of President Kruger of the Transvaal in reply to an invitation from Johannesburg to attend a ball given in 1891 in celebration of Queen Victoria's birthday:

"In reply to your favor of the 12th inst. requesting me to ask his honor, the state president, to consent to the making use of his name as patron on the occasion of a ball to be given at Johannesburg on the 26th inst., I have been instructed to inform you that whereas his honor considers a ball as Baal's service, for which reasons the Lord ordered Moses to kill all offenders, whereas such is consequently contrary to his honor's principles, his honor cannot consent to the misuse of his name in connection with such a ball."

A Strange Feasting Custom.

There was a strange custom in the Isle of Lewis when the people used to gather to the church of St. Mulvay at night, each family bringing provisions and each family furnishing a peck of malt, which was brewed into ale. One who was chosen for the purpose waded into the sea up to his middle and poured out a cup of ale, calling on a sea god called Shony to favor the people through the coming year. The people, after seeing the ceremony performed, returned to the church and then went to the fields to spend the rest of the night in revelry.—London Standard.

Books With Leaves Uncut.

A book the leaves of which are uncut possesses no value of an intrinsic character beyond one that is cut, but really less. For that matter, if it is to remain uncut, it is as valueless as it is useless. There are book collectors, however, who place a premium upon books with uncut leaves and so commend them in their advertisements and circulars. There are persons who load certain shelves in their libraries with uncut books. Of course they are not for use and are not used and are valueless except for keeping.

Proved Her Claim.

"I wanted to show," she said, "that woman is maligned, that brevity is quite as much her attribute as it is man's, and so when he proposed I had to say 'Yes.'"

"You might have said 'No,'" it was suggested.

"Not at all," she protested. "When you say 'No,' you have to explain why you say it and tell how sorry you are, and it would have spoiled everything."—Chicago Post.

Suggesting a Remedy.

With sarcastic fingers the deaf and dumb lady curtain lectured her husband for betting on the races.

"Either talk slower," he spelled out on his hand, "or else put hopples on your fingers. They interfere when you strike this gait."—Judge.

A Sure Thing.

"I wonder if he knows my sister has money."

"Has he proposed?"

"He has."

"He does."—New York Herald.

WHY NOSES POINT EAST.

A Theory Which Is Plausible, but Rather Ridiculous.

Very few people's noses are set properly upon their faces. Any observant person who will go along the street and take notice of the nasal organs of the passerby may easily convince himself on the subject. Not one individual in a hundred, whether man or woman, is above criticism as to the arrangement of his or her nose.

One might think that nature is a little careless about this matter. When the nose turns off at an angle instead of assuming its just and proper attitude, it tends, at all events in extreme cases, to give a disordered effect to the features as a whole, but if nature really does not care which way a nose points there ought to be as many noses turned one way as are turned the other.

But is this the case? Not a bit of it. As you walk down the street look at the people as they go by, and you will discover that the noses of ninety-nine out of every hundred turn to the right. When once you have begun to notice this fact, it will constantly attract your attention. In truth, the objection to starting in upon a study of this kind is that you cannot get away from it afterward. It haunts you steadily and persistently. Whenever you meet a friend you look at his nose to make sure whether it turns to the right or not.

Now, the phenomenon being as described, what is the reason behind it? Why should nearly everybody's nose turn to the right rather than to the left? There seems to be only one way to account for it, and that is that almost everybody is right handed and uses his handkerchief correspondingly; so from infancy to old age the nose in the process of being blown and wiped is persistently tweaked to the right; hence as the infant passes through childhood and later youth—when the nasal organ is flexible and in process of formation, so to speak—it is obliged gradually but surely to assume an inclination eastward.

If this theory be correct, the noses of left handed persons ought to turn customarily to the left. Such, in fact, appears to be the case, but data on this interesting branch of the question are not sufficiently complete to afford a final conclusion.—Saturday Evening Post.

FLOWER AND TREE.

Altheas show their Rose of Sharon flowers in August and September.

In setting out a tree the previous season's growth should be shortened one-third to three-fourths, according to the roots.

The golden coreopsis and the feathery shoots of the garden asparagus make a beautiful and artistic combination in a simple vase.

Watercress is good when the leaves are large. The size of the leaves indicates the amount of tissue—strengthening chlorophyll—in them.

The safest rule in pruning is to keep watch on the young trees and cut out any branch that seems to need removal while it is yet small enough to yield to the knife.

Trees that grow large tops, such as elms, silver maples, lindens, etc., should be planted forty-five feet apart in order to allow each tree room for expansion and prevent too much shade.

Plants of sweet william must be purchased for a new garden, as those grown from seed sown in the spring will not blossom until the spring following. Once started, however, they will continue year after year.

Has Been.

An Englishman went into a restaurant in a New England town and was served for his first course with a delicacy unknown to him, so he asked the waiter what it was, and the waiter replied:

"It's bean soup, sir," whereupon the Englishman in high indignation responded:

"I don't care what it's been; I want to know what it is!"—Philadelphia Times.

AN AWFUL DISASTER.

A Volcano's Eruption Destroys St. Pierre, Martinique.

FORTY THOUSAND LIVES LOST

Residue of Population is Without Food or Shelter—Heaps of Bodies Lying Upon the Wharves.

THE TOWN WRAPPED IN FLAMES

ST THOMAS, Danish West Indies, May 10.—The French cruiser Suchet arrived at Pointe a Pitre, Island of Guadeloupe, French West Indies from Fort De France, Island of Martinique, bringing several refugees. She confirmed the report that the town of St. Pierre, Martinique, was entirely destroyed at 8 o'clock on Thursday morning by a volcanic eruption. It is supposed that most of the inhabitants of St. Pierre were killed, that the neighboring parishes were laid waste and that the residue of the population of St. Pierre is without food or shelter.

The British Royal mail line steamer Esk, which arrived at St. Lucia Friday morning, reports having passed St. Pierre Thursday night. The steamer was covered with ashes, though she was five miles distant from the town, which was in impenetrable darkness. A boat was sent in as near as possible to the shore but not a living soul was seen ashore—only flames.

The Quebec steamship company's steamer Roraima was seen to explode and disappear.

The commander of the Suchet reports that at 10 o'clock on Thursday the entire town of St. Pierre was wrapped in flames. He endeavored to save about thirty persons more or less burned, from the vessels in the harbor. His officers went ashore in small boats seeking for survivors, but were unable to penetrate the town. They saw heaps of bodies upon the wharves and it is believed that not a single person resident in St. Pierre at the moment of the catastrophe escaped.

The governor of the colony and his staff colonel and wife were in St. Pierre and probably perished. The extent of the catastrophe cannot be imagined.

Martinique is one of the West Indian islands belonging to France, in the Windward group, lying between latitude 14 degrees 23 minutes north, and longitude 60 degrees 50 minutes west, 30 minutes southeast of St. Lucia. Its length is forty-five miles, 381 square miles. The island is irregular in form, high rocky and volcanic, containing five or six extinct craters. It is subject to earthquakes, of which several previous ones have been disastrous.

The manufactures possess considerable importance; there are several establishments for the preparation of indigo, about 100 for the various processes in the preparation of sugar, coffee, cocoa and cotton, besides potteries, lime kilns and steam mills. There is an active commerce, chiefly with France. The exports are sugar, coffee, cocoa, cassia, dye and cabinet woods, cotton, rum, etc.

Martinique is called by the Indians Madiana and was discovered by Columbus in 1502. The French colonized it in 1635, and during the war of American independence made it a great naval station. The British seized it in 1762, 1781, 1794 and 1809, finally restoring it by the treaty of Paris in 1814. The slaves rebelled in 1822, 1833 and 1839; slavery was abolished in 1848. Since 1866 the colony has legislated for itself on duties and public works.

Mt. Pelee, after a long period of inaction, burst forth in a violent volcanic eruption in August, 1851. From these mountains several ranges of low volcanic hills extend to the sea, and between them lie broad, fertile valleys. The rivers are numerous, but small; most of them in the rainy season become fierce torrents. The coasts are indented by many bays, which are difficult of access. The east side of the island, called Cabes-Terre, is more broken and sterile than the west, called Basse-Terre.

Dangerous if Neglected.

Burns, cuts and other wounds often fail to heal properly if neglected and become troublesome sores. DeWitt's Witch Hazel Salve prevents such consequences. Even where delay has aggravated the injury DeWitt's Witch Hazel Salve effects a cure. "I had a running sore on my leg thirty years," says H. C. Hartly, Yankeetown, Ind. "After using many remedies, I tried DeWitt's Witch Hazel Salve. A few boxes healed the sore." Cures all skin diseases. Piles yield to it at once. Beware of counterfeits. C. M. Parrish.

—Two Hungarians were cutting down a tree near Patton Thursday evening. It was close to the road, and fell just as H. D. Allison, a prominent hotelkeeper of Patton, was driving past in his buggy. The tree struck the buggy and injured Allison so badly that he died in an hour. The coroner is investigating.

What is Foley's Kidney Cure?

The Home of the Kindergarten.

The Japanese have the most perfect kindergarten system in the world. In fact, they originated this method of instructing by entertainment instead of by punishment. Their play apparatus for such purposes is elaborate, but all of it is adapted to the infant mind, which it is designed at once to amuse and to inform. The little ones of Japan even become somewhat interested in mathematics by seeing and feeling what a pretty thing a cone, a sphere or a cylinder is when cut out of wood with a lathe. They make outlines of solid figures out of straw, with green peas to hold the joints together, and for the instruction of the blind flat blocks are provided, with the Japanese characters raised upon them.—Pearson's Weekly.

McKinley and His Mother.

Dr. Rixey, who for some years was the private physician in the McKinley household, used to tell that when the late president's mother sat down for the first time to a White House dinner what seemed to impress her most was the prodigal supply of cream. She commented on the abundance and then added, "Well, William, at last I know what they mean when they speak of the cream of society."

The president laughed. "I admit," said he, "that there seems to be an extravagant array of cream on the table, but you know, mother, we can afford to keep a cow now."

Dickens' Unfortunate Love.

Concerning Charles Dickens, it is well known that though he married Catherine, one of George Hogarth's three daughters, in 1836, he was later devotedly attached to her sister Mary. Why he did not marry Mary in the first place is not certainly known, unless it be that Mary, a young woman of great loveliness of character, had successfully concealed her own affection for Catherine's betrothed in order to save her sister from disappointment.—Percy Fitzgerald in Harper's Magazine.

Jinks—That's all right. Worry reduces flesh.—New York Weekly.

A Strenuous Life.

"I suppose a public man has to read a great deal," said the thoughtful man.

"Yes," answered Senator Sorghum; "the demand for anecdotes is so great now that a man has to keep digging in the library all the time in order to keep up the supply of stories about himself."—Washington Star.

Breakers Ahead.

Auntie (anxiously)—Do you think you have had the proper training for a poor man's wife?

Sweet Girl—Yes, indeed. Papa hasn't given me any spending money worth mentioning for years. I always get things charged.—Exchange.

Like a Drowning Man.

"Five years ago a disease the doctors called dyspepsia took such hold of me that I could scarcely go," writes Geo. S. Marsh, well-known attorney of Nocona, Tex. "I took quantities of pepsin and other medicine but nothing helped me. As a drowning man grabs at a straw I grabbed at Kodol. I felt an improvement at once and after a few bottles am well." Kodol is the only preparation which exactly reproduces the natural digestive juices and consequently is the only one which digests any good food and cures any form of stomach trouble. C. M. Parrish.

ARABIAN COURTSHIP.

Sworn Secrecy Envelops the Wooing and Winning of the Girl.

An Arab loves as none but an Arab can love, but he is also mightily excitable and easily won. An Arab sees a girl bearing water or brushwood and in a moment, almost at a glance, is as madly in love as if he had passed years of courtship. He thinks of nothing else, cares and dreams of nothing else but the girl he loves, and not infrequently, if he is disappointed in his affection, he pines and dies. In order to commence his suit he sends for a member of the girl's tribe and, first insuring his secrecy by a solemn oath, confesses his love and entreats his confidant to arrange an interview.

The confidant goes to the girl, gives her a flower or a blade of grass and says:

"Swear by him who made this flower and us also that you will not reveal to any one that which I am about to unfold to you."

If the girl will not accept the proposal, she will not take the oath, but nevertheless keeps the matter perfectly secret from all. If she is favorably disposed to the match, she answers:

"I swear by him who made the flower you hold and us," and the place and time of meeting are settled. These oaths are never broken, and it is not long before the ardent lover becomes the happy husband.

Delicacy of Smell.

Very careful experiments have been made to test the delicacy of the sense of smell in human beings. A series of solutions of five different substances was prepared, each series being so arranged that every solution was of half the strength of the preceding one. These series were extended by successive dilutions till it was impossible to detect the odors. The order of the bottles containing these solutions was completely disarranged, and the test consisted in the attempt to classify them by the sense of smell alone.

An equal number of male and female observers were selected from the best

HELPING OUT THE HERO.

A Realistic Scene That Was Not Down on the Playbill.

In the old days, when a certain Texas city was not exactly the charming place it is now, I was playing in "Monte-Christo" to a crowded house. All afternoon the cowboy of his type of the day had been coming into town for the performance. I could see him well in evidence in the front row of the balcony, his skin jacket shining and his pistols glistening in his belt. The arch villain was facing his fate in the final act, and I spoke my lines, "Your time has come." Suddenly a cowboy stood up in the front rank in the balcony, drew his pistol and drew a bead on the villain of the piece. "If you don't fix him," rang out his voice, "I will!"

There he stood ready to put the threat into execution.

"Kill me quick! Kill me quick!" cried my fellow actor under his breath, trembling at the prospect of a more realistic end from the gentleman in the balcony. But the joke was too good a one for that. I prolonged the duel as much as possible, but presently the arch villain took his first plausible opportunity to expire at my feet.

"That's right; served him right. If you hadn't done it, I would!" came approvingly from the voice in the balcony.

But that circumstance lessened my chances to get any one to play the part later. Actors would come to me for an engagement in the villain's role and ask, "Are you going to play in Texas next year, Mr. O'Neill?"

"Yes."

"Thank you!"

That would be the end of it, for each would say, "Good day!"—James O'Neill in Saturday Evening Post.

A True Poem.

How hard it is to tell what makes a true poem, a lasting poem! When one asks himself what it is, how many things arise, how hard to narrow the list down to a few things! Is it beauty? Then what is beauty? One meets with beautiful poems every day that he never thinks of or recurs to again. It is certain that without one thing there is no real poetry—genuine passion. The fire came down out of heaven and consumed Elisha's offering because Elisha was sincere. Plan and build your poem never so deftly, mankind will not permanently care for it unless it has genuine feeling. It must be impassioned.—John Burroughs in Century.

Reason For the Hit.

"Was Mrs. Gabbot's 'conversazione' a success?"

"Decidedly. Everybody chatted at a great rate."

"How did she ever manage it?"

"Oh, she had a musical programme, you know, that lasted all through."—Philadelphia Bulletin.

Table Talk.

"Table Talk," Philadelphia, Pa., brings with each month so many new and attractive ideas about preparing dainty and nourishing dishes, that with its helpful suggestions the work of preparing the family meal becomes an easy matter. The Housekeepers' Inquiry department is a school of information and instruction on cooking and serving. It lays out the cooking part of the housework from the first day of the month to the last day. It is a helpful assistant to the most inexperienced in cooking. It teaches the art of good cooking and economical living. It illustrates cookery. ## "A Good Beginning Makes a Bad Ending."

That saying seems to have been born of the superstition deep rooted in humanity. It is akin to that other saying "He laughs best who laughs last." Perhaps in these and similar sayings there is a survival of the old pagan belief that a display of happiness was likely to incur the envy of the gods and to draw down the visitation of the malice which is twin to envy.

It would be a ridiculous proposition to affirm that bad is the necessary outcome of good. But just as many a day which begins with a cloudless sky ends in storm, so many an event in life which promises only happiness ends in disappointment and misery.

This is very true of marriage. The young wife goes heart and soul into home making and housekeeping. She loves to cook and prepare the dainties her husband enjoys. She is so robust and hearty that she can hardly find enough to do to exhaust her abundant energy. That's the way it begins. After a while she finds that it takes all her strength to care for her home. Then household cares begin to overtax her, and she drops down into a chair many a time and gives way to tears because of her weakness and misery. The sky so cloudless on the morning of marriage has soon become overcast.

THE CRITICAL TIME

in many a woman's life comes just at this period of discouragement and despair. She finds indications of disease of the delicate womanly organs. Her women friends perhaps tell her that the bearing down sensation, the pains in the back and loins indicate disease or displacement. She consults physicians, takes prescribed treatments, all to no avail. And yet this woman's case is curable on the evidence of women who have been cured.

"Four years ago my health began to fail," writes Mrs. Nellie M. Reycraft, of Glenwood, Washington Co., Oregon. "I had a heavy dragging and weight in the region of the uterus, pain in back and loins, could not lift anything heavy, rest at night very poor; stomach deranged. One physician said I was overworked, another said I had congestion and falling of uterus. He treated me nine months and said I would not be well until I had passed the change of life. I was only twenty-seven years old then. I became discouraged, and began using Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription. Took a teaspoonful three times a day; began feeling better right away. Am using my third bottle now, and feel I am in good health. Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription has restored me to health. If suffering women would give it a fair trial they would give it praise."

It can truthfully be said that there is hardly a form of womanly disease medically curable which will not yield to the faithful use of "Favorite Prescription." More than this, it is a matter of record that many forms of womanly disease pronounced incurable by local physicians have been perfectly and permanently cured by the use of Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription.

It is worth noting that these cures are lasting. Many medicines offered for women's use are mere palliatives. They numb the nerves and so dull the pain. But they do not re-establish the lost womanly health. "Favorite Prescription" is a purely vegetable preparation. It contains no alcohol, neither opium, cocaine or any other narcotic. It cannot disagree with the weakest constitution. It establishes regularity, dries the drains which weaken women, heals inflammation and ulceration and cures female weakness.

IT IS WOMAN'S WAY

to sacrifice herself for her family. She goes without the new dress that husband or child may have some coveted pleasure. And for economy's sake she often bears the ills which are undermining her health. It is a false economy. The health of the wife and mother is the most important factor in the home life, and every suffering woman who has been cured by "Favorite Prescription" is a witness to the real economy of this means of cure.

"My health is the best now that it has been for four years," writes Mrs. Phebe Morris, of Ira, Cayuga Co., N.Y., Box 52. "I have taken but two bottles of your medicine, 'Favorite Prescription' and 'Golden Medical Discovery.' These medicines have done me more good than all that I have ever taken before. I couldn't do my work only about half the time, and now I can work all the time for a family of four. Before I took your medicines I was sick in bed nearly half the time. My advice to all who are troubled with female weakness is to take Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription and 'Golden Medical Discovery'—the most wonderful medicines in the world."

Sick women are invited to consult Dr. Pierce by letter, free. All letters are held in sacred confidence and womanly confidences are guarded by strict professional privacy. Address Dr. R. V. Pierce, Buffalo, N. Y.

In a little more than thirty years Dr. Pierce, chief consulting physician to the Invalids' Hotel and Surgical Institute, Buffalo, N. Y., assisted by his staff of nearly a score of physicians, has treated and cured hundreds of thousands of sick and suffering women.

If the dealer offers you a "just as good" medicine in place of "Favorite Prescription" it is because less meritorious medicines pay him a little more profit. His profit is your loss. Insist upon having "Favorite Prescription" the medicine which makes weak women strong and sick women well.

THE REASON WHY.

Some medical works content themselves by classifying advice under the head of "Do" or "Don't." Dr. Pierce's Common Sense Medical Adviser gives the reason why, for all it enjoins. It is a plain guide to health written in plain English and dealing with the great problems of physiology and hygiene from the view point of common sense. This great work containing 1008 large pages is sent free on receipt of stamps to pay expense of mailing only. Send 31 one-cent stamps for the work in cloth binding or only 21 stamps for the book in paper-covers. Address Dr. R. V. Pierce, Buffalo, N. Y.

TO TELL GOOD CIGARS.

Judges of Their Fine Points Few and Far Between.

The judges of good cigars in this country are few and far between, says an expert. The great difficulty with the people who think they know cigars is that they lay too much stress on the color of the weed. The color makes not the slightest difference, and you are just as likely to find one of the rankest kind of cigars with the deep black color of the genuine Havana as you are to find a bad one among those that are yellow as straw.

The best way to tell a cigar is by the feel of it. Take a cigar in your hands and give it a gentle pressure, holding it close to the ear. If the cigar is a good one, it will be just the least little bit flexible, and the fingers will sink into the wrapper. It gives forth no perceptible sound. If the cigar is hard and close rolled and when placed to the ear sounds as though you were pressing straw together, beware. The best cigars are made of the same leaf as the wrapper and are closely rolled. The common cigars are what is known as filled and contain all kinds of refuse from the tables where the good cigars are made. There are some filled cigars that are good smokes, but you seldom find a Havana or a Manila or good Cuban or Key West smoke that is not rolled. Many people who go into a cigar store to get an imported smoke do not follow up the salesman when he takes the cigars from the case and are consequently often fooled. They are given domestic brands and are charged imported prices for them.

These "good cigar judges" cannot tell the difference when there is all the difference in the world. If you must have an imported smoke, make the clerk hand you the box and look closely at the revenue stamp. The stamps on domestic goods are green and white, while those on the imported boxes are all yellow and white. Look into the next cigar cases you see before purchasing an imported cigar. If they have no boxes in the case to which is attached a yellow and white stamp, don't attempt to make a purchase. The clerk will sell you a cigar he calls imported, but it will not be the real article.—Washington Post.

Traveling is Dangerous.

Constant motion jars the kidneys which are kept in place in the body by delicate attachments. This is the reason that travelers, trainmen, street car men, teamsters and all who drive very much suffer from kidney diseases in some form. Foley's Kidney Cure strengthens the kidneys and cures all forms of kidney and bladder diseases. Geo. H. Hausan, locomotive engineer, Lima, O., writes. "Constant vibration of the engine caused me a great deal of trouble with my kidneys, and I got no relief until I used Foley's Kidney Cure." C. M. Parrish.

HAVE WOMEN INTUITION?

One Writer Says They Have Never Shown It In Literature.

Literature is the final expression of human thought. If women can lay claim to a special faculty of intuition, why do they not manifest it in their writings? Intuition, if it means anything, means the faculty that gets down to the germ of actions and characteristics and focuses external traits into a central verity recognizable to the general public. Now, there are more female writers than male. No woman poet has ever written an inevitable line, a line that flashes spontaneously out of the unknown and casts an illuminating light upon the abyss. Woman has added practically nothing to our stock of familiar quotations. Take down your Bartlett or your anthology, and you may be surprised to find that from Mrs. Browning to Mrs. Meynell women have never coined a phrase which has passed into the common currency of speech. Mrs. Browning has indeed written fine lines, but nothing of hers can be said to have become a household word.

Nor has any woman novelist created any character that is generally recognized as typical. George Eliot has come closest with her Tito Melema and Mrs. Poyser. You would appeal only to the educated few if you described a person as a Tito or a Poyser. But call a man a Don Quixote, a Micawber, a Dogberry, a Falstaff, a Colonel Newcome, a Bilfil, a Parson Adams or Bob Acres, call a woman a Mrs. Malaprop, a Becky Sharp, a Beatrice, a Diana Vernon, a Meg Merrilies, and even the illiterate will mentally classify the individual as you wish him or her to be classified.

"Ah, but," you say, "in real life women are the true intuitions. They size up a man or a woman at a glance. They are never mistaken when they trust to their instincts."

I can only testify to my own experience. I have not found that women's snap judgments of character are imbued with any special verity. They form likes or dislikes quicker than a man does because they are quicker on the trigger of conjecture. They can only be one of two things, right or wrong. If time proves that they are right, as they must be in 50 per cent of cases, the right guess is remembered and treasured up by the slower minded man as an extraordinary instance of intuition. The wrong guess is forgotten.—William S. Walsh in Era.

SUPERSTITIONS AT SEA.

Quaint Notions Still Prevail Among the Older Mariners.

It is a mistake, according to a well known young naval officer, to suppose that the sailors of our present navy are free from superstition. "I remember," he said, "only five years ago when I was in the training ship that the old salts there were as full of old superstitious beliefs as any of their ancestors could have been.

"When at sea in a dead calm, the swaying of the masts in the motionless atmosphere sometimes causes a peculiar wailing sound like distant cries. This, the old seamen assured us, was the moaning of the souls of sailors lost at sea.

"Another one of their pet beliefs is that all sailors that die by drowning are at once transformed into Cape Horn pigeons, or, as they are also called, Mother Carey's chickens. Officers are supposed to find their reincarnations in sea gulls and mews, while the big, solitary albatrosses, following the wake of passing vessels, are the souls of captains who have gone down with their ships. These are the reasons why sailors never kill these birds.

"I remember that these tales impressed me a great deal in those days when I was still a mere boy. On one occasion I was sitting in the forecastle on my watch below, chatting with the boatswain's mate, a real old timer, when our conversation was interrupted by a low wail of agony, louder than that usually produced by the wind. We listened in a deep, awed silence.

"'Boy,' said the boatswain's mate, 'ye hear that? That's a seaman's call wot's been drownded.'

"Again the wail disturbed the silence.

"'Yes,' said the old sailor in an anxious whisper; 'that's some old salt wot's lost his life on board this vessel. Likely he's come for something he's forgot.'

"After awhile I ventured out on deck. The wails were coming from the roof of the forecastle. I climbed up and there found the captain's little son tugging away at the cat's tail, which the poor animal was resenting with the full power of its lungs."—New York Tribune.

—A man by the name of George Snyder, created quite a good bit of excitement on our streets on Sunday afternoon. When first seen he was running down the platform of the P. R. R. station with a little baby only two months old in his arms. He was stopped by officer Mullen to whom he said, "I am going to take this baby back with me to Tyrone, its mother ran away from me, and I followed her, and took the kid, now I am going back home with it." The policeman made him take the baby, which was crying back to its mother, who is staying with her parents at Vernona town near Valentines furnace. The man who was under the influence of liquor was locked up, and at four thirty taken to the station, and sent on his way home, but at the crossing near Gerberich's mill, he jumped off and came back to town. It was feared he would do some bodily harm to his wife and child so he was locked up again, and today he went peaceably back home.

NEW ENTERPRISES.

A Large Grocery Soon to be Established—McCalmont's New Coal Yard —A Wholesale Grocery also Among the Possibilities

Bellefonte is about to enjoy one of the greatest industrial booms in the history of the town. With the starting up of the new Nittany furnace on June 1 (the repairs of which are almost completed) indications point to Bellefonte becoming one of the liveliest little manufacturing cities in Central Pennsylvania.

As a result of this activity new enterprises are being projected and many more are being talked of. The most important that we have heard of is the large retail grocery store which is to be established about the latter part of June in the store room in the Hale building now occupied by Potter & Hoy as a ware house. This store is to be run by an incorporated company and is to be known as the "Central Trading Company." The following men are interested in it: L. T. Munson, Frank Clemson, Col. J. L. Spangler, John VanPelt and Edward Greist. We understand Mr. Greist is to be the manager. He is now at Philipsburg and is a son of Jack Greist of Unionville.

At first they will occupy only the front part of the store room, Potter & Hoy occupying the rear for a ware house. As the business grows however they will enlarge it until they occupy the whole lower floor of this immense building. They expect to put in a $5,000 stock of groceries at the start but in time they hope to handle meats, general merchandise and goods of every description.

Two of the men at the back of this new mercantile venture are also connected with the Bellefonte Furnace and the new Nittany Furnace which will be the means of insuring them considerable trade from the employees of these concerns.

Another new enterprise now under way, or rather the reviving of an old one, is the building of a large ware house and the laying of tracks and sidings for a coal yard on land leased by McCalmont & Co., from the Bellefonte Central Railroad. This ware house and coal yard is being located near the old Thomas farm house at the glass works. The Bellefonte Central has a side track already laid to this point.

It is also rumored that Platt, Barber & Co., the well known wholesale grocers of Philipsburg and DuBois, will establish a branch wholesale grocery at this place. It is said they will erect a large building on the land owned by Charles McCafferty opposite the residence of Hon. P. Gray Meek.

Thieves Shear Sheep and Steal the Wool.

A new style of thieving has been established in Nittany valley, which is creating considerable loss to the farmers and is resulting profitably to the men engaged in the business. The farmers' barns are visited at night by parties who as yet are unknown, who shear the wool from the backs of the sheep and carry the fleeces away with them. Thus far nine sheep belonging to different farmers have been sheared.

THE ACADEMY WON.

In an Exciting Game of Base Ball Saturday Afternoon.

The Bellefonte Academy defeated the strong Lock Haven Normal school in a close and exciting game of base ball at Meadow-brook Park (the Glass Works meadow) Saturday afternoon before a large and enthusiastic crowd of people.

The boys from the school on the hill had a good lead up to the eighth inning when they went to pieces and allowed the Normal boys to pile up ten runs. This was due to the changes in the Academy infield. Their second baseman was hurt and had to be played in the outfield while an outfielder had to play in the infield. This rather upset the playing ability of the team. They rallied however in the last inning and won the game. The score:

SATURDAY NIGHT'S BLAZE.

Handsome Stable on Property of William P. and Myra Humes Destroyed by Fire.

On Saturday evening about 7:30 o'clock the stable on the Humes property, located on the alley near Howard street, was discovered to be on fire. An alarm was turned in and both the Logan and Undine fire companies responded promptly. When they reached the scene, however, the fire had spread so rapidly that flames were coming out of the windows and the cupola. It seemed almost certain that the structure would be totally destroyed and the adjoining stables and residences were in great danger. The fire companies worked very quickly and soon four streams were playing on the burning building and in an incredible short time the fire was under control.

The Humes stable was quite badly damaged and Mr. Humes' driving horse, valued at $250, was burned to death. Considerable hay and grain were destroyed and a two-seated carriage was badly damaged.

The stable was a handsome one, built of pressed brick, with a slate roof, and cost about $3,500. The interior is a complete wreck, the roof will have to be replaced with a new one and the walls will have to be torn down a certain distance and rebuilt.

Mr. Humes has $1,000 insurance in the agency of Wm. B. Rankin. The origin of the fire is unknown.

—Eighteen months' old Lydia Morgan fell 20 feet out of a window at Williamsport Friday, alighted on a pile of broken scantling and escaped unhurt. The child leaned too far out of the window while the mother was tacking carpet.

—Bring the children now. $4 cabinet photos for $1.69 the dozen, until June 29th. Mallory & Taylor.
